Nine Thousand Men Called Out in Chicago—Railroads Impaired.

A Former Philippine Statesman in Louisville Today a Guest of Friends.

REPUBLICAN SPEAKING

NOT NEAR A SETTLEMENT.

Chicago, July 8.—The freight handlers' strike, which called out 9,000 men, and has seriously curtailed the handling of freight, appeared no nearer a settlement this morning than it did yesterday.

TRIBUTE TO LAWTON.

Louisville, July 8.—General Buencamino, at one time secretary of state under Aguinaldo, is in Louisville today. He has come to this city to pay his respects to Mrs. Henry W. Lawton, wife of the general who was killed in the Philippines, and is in America to show his devotion to his new country. General Buencamino knew General Lawton personally, and his visit is in the nature of a tribute to him.

SPOKE TO BIG CROWD.

Harlan, Ky. July 8.—Colonel D. G. Colson and Captain Parker, candidates for the Republican nomination for congress in the Eleventh district, spoke to about 1000 enthusiastic Republicans here today.

NO RATIFICATION.

THE NEWS-DEMOCRAT WILL CONTINUE TO GET THE PUBLIC PRINTING.

Mayor Yeiser construes the law to mean that no ratification by the council of the appointment of the News-Democrat as public printer is necessary, as the law does not require it. There had been some doubt as to the ratification of Mr. James Utterback's tenure of office for some time, so last night he resigned as city printer, and City Prosecuting Attorney Jesse Gilbert appointed the News-Democrat, Mr. Utterback's paper, forthwith, as told in the council report. The council failed to ratify it, there being five in favor and five against, but Mayor Yeiser said to a reporter today that he did not think the council had anything to do with it. The News-Democrat will proceed on this theory, a reporter was informed when he made inquiry, and no further effort be made to have any one confirm the appointment.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Washington, July 8.—The war department is advised that Colonel Charles R. Barnett, of the quartermaster's department, committed suicide July 5 by jumping from the fire escape on the fourth floor of the sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich.

VERY SENSATIONAL

Young Ladies of Livingston County Fought Recently

One Is Reported in a Precarious Condition From Blood Poisoning on An Arm.

A GREAT DEAL OF EXCITEMENT

Passengers from Smithland this morning report quite a sensation in the Joy section of Livingston county. According to reports a rough and tumble fight between two highly respected young ladies of the village is about to result seriously, if not fatally.

A week or two ago, it appears from the statements made to a reporter, Miss Stella Stanford and Miss Floyd Hutchinson met in a store there and had a quarrel over some reports that had been circulated, the altercation ending in a fight.

In the scuffle one of the girls, Miss Hutchinson, bit the other on the arm. They were soon separated by the proprietor of the store, and nothing more was thought of it until blood poisoning developed in the bite on Miss Stanford's arm and the young lady is reported in a precarious condition with a prospect of losing her arm, if not her life. At last accounts, however, everything possible was being done for her, and she may recover.

ABOUT DOGS.

SENTIMENT AGAINST KILLING THEM IS GROWING STRONGER.

Last night during the council meeting it was ordered that Marshal Crow be requested that no more dogs be thrown into the Ohio river to bother the Metropolis people, but no dead canines have been cast into the waters for several days.

Marshal Crow has not been taking up the dogs for several days and said at the time he stopped the dog catchers from work that he would see if there was not another and better way to have the dog tax matter adjusted. He suggested that he be allowed an extra policeman and a wagon to go over the town and catch the dog, but will now adopt a still better plan. He will have every officer to keep a lookout for untaxed dogs and all that are found will be reported to him with the owners' names and addresses and warrants will be procured against them. One councilman said that he was against killing the dogs even if the town was overrun by them and thought the owners might be made to come up and pay the taxes the same as the property owners who have to pay a penalty if they fail to pay their assessment at the proper time. The latter idea of Marshal Crow seems to be the best and only safe way out of the matter.

ONLY A HOLIDAY.

REPORT OF A STRIKE ON THE MARINE WAYS DENIED.

The marine ways are idle today and the workmen are enjoying a holiday. The tug Alice Barr was not pulled out yesterday as the sub-contracts are not yet let out and as there is no other work to be done, the men were laid off. There was a report out to the effect that the men had refused to work with two men whom the Evansville Grain Co. had sent here but the caulkers and ship carpenters say that this report was unfounded and that everybody will be at work as soon as the boat is pulled out and the contract is duly signed up.

THE GUN CLUB

No Remarkable Shooting at Yesterday's Practice.

A Match Arranged for Next Week—Seven Entries Thus Far.

There was a good attendance at the railroad men's gun club shoot at the depot grounds yesterday afternoon but no remarkable shooting was done.

Messrs. Hart Bronaugh, of the city, and Ed Cowling, of Metropolis, did the best shooting, Mr. Bronaugh getting the best score, 74 out of 80 clay birds and Mr. Cowling running a close second. Messrs. Starr, Tabscott and Mercer did comparatively poor shooting and made small scores.

A match shoot has been arranged between seven of Paducah's best marksmen and the shoot will probably be pulled off about Tuesday next. The following are those who have agreed to go in: Messrs. George Robertson, Walter Wilkins, Hart Bronaugh, Edward Mumford, Mose Starr, Emery Tabscott and W. A. Davis, the winner taking all the entry fee, $10 per man, making a total stake of $70.

The shooters will shoot at 100 birds each and the result will be watched with interest.

The prizes won by many of the comparatively young shooters in the Paducah gun clubs has encouraged others to join the club and enter the prize shooting matches.

One shooter, a man who has shot over the traps a short time only, recently carried away several nice little prizes amounting to quite a neat sum and for an afternoon's work it was an excellent showing.

For a time the Paducah gun club members were the only marksmen who attracted particular attention in the tournaments but now since the railroad engineers have organized and begun to shoot all the honor is not retained by the former club and the railroaders have come in for their share.

WAS DISORDERLY.

E. P. Lamasco, white, was arrested this afternoon about 1 o'clock by Officer Stonebreaker for being drunk and disorderly. He went into a Second street restaurant and tried to break up housekeeping by kicking the chairs and tables over.

Editor George Harris, of the Cumberland Courier, came down from Smithland yesterday afternoon.

CUBA'S FUTURE.

Her Only Hope is in Annexation to the United States.

General Fitzhugh Lee Does Not Take a Very Sanguine View of it.

Washington, July 8.—General Fitzhugh Lee, former consul general at Havana, before the Spanish war, who was in Washington today, sounded a warning on Cuba and came strongly to the support of President Roosevelt in his campaign for reciprocity.

Most important of all his statements was that in regard to the awful business depression which has already set in and a consequent curtailment of the steamship service between the United States and Cuba. He takes a very gloomy view of the new republic's future and goes so far as to say that anarchy is not far away. Unless the United States comes to the help of what he considers a doomed people he says that annexation is certain and predicts that the American flag will soon be hoisted over the island, never again to come down.

General Lee further went on to say that trouble of a serious nature was likely to break out in Cuba at any moment. If the Cuban government could ever establish business relations and confidence with American merchants life and property would be safe and American capital would see investment. All this is not possible under the present condition and with the refusal of congress to grant reciprocity.

COW CATCHERS.

MR. JAMES ARMONETT APPOINTED TODAY AS ONE OF THEM.

Mayor Yeiser this morning appointed Mr. James Armonett one of the men authorized by the council last night to take up cows caught running at large. There is at present an ordinance prohibiting the running at large of stock at night, but it has never been enforced to any extent because it is too much trouble for the police officers to drive the animals to the pound when they are found.

The two men authorized by the board will go over the city in buggies and take up all cows and horses found inside the city limits.

Miss Carrie Rascoe, of Princeton, is visiting Miss Edna Bukey.

BREAKS OUT AGAIN

Fresh Trouble in the Management of the City Hospital.

The Council Orders an Investigation—Some of the Reports That Are Current.

NO ONE WANTS TO TALK

There have been rather sensational reports going the rounds for several days past in regard to the trouble between City Physician J. E. Coyle and Mrs. Sarah Birchett, steward of the city hospital. A few weeks ago Dr. Coyle tendered his resignation to the mayor, but was induced to withdraw it, and it was thought the trouble had been smoothed over.

It seems, however, to have broken out afresh, and some very ugly stories are afloat, regarding the management of the hospital. One of these stories is that George Bailey, a cook for the Buckskin Bill show, who died the latter part of April in the city hospital, had his neck broken from a fall. According to the report, Bailey was delirious, and instead of having a competent nurse to watch him, the matron had one of the patients in the hospital, who left the room during the night, and allowed Bailey to wander in his delirium to the steps and tumble over the banisters, breaking his neck.

The death certificate, however, shows that he died from pneumonia, and if he did not and was killed by the fall, both the steward of the hospital and the city physician were remiss in their duty in not notifying the coroner.

Mrs. Birchett was asked about the report, and said that she had instructions to send all reporters to the city physician when they asked her for information. She did say, however, that the report about the man's death was false, and that the man fell at the head of the steps and rolled down.

Another report is that a Mayfield negro who had a leg cut off by a train a few weeks ago, and was taken to the hospital, died from blood poisoning. Instructions were left to keep warm water pouring over the limb all night, and no one was provided to keep the water warm, and as a consequence the man died.

City Physician Coyle said he did not care to make any statement in regard to the affair. It is explained in the case of Bailey's death, however, that the man had a bad case of typhoid with delirium and needed nursing. That the night the accident occurred the head nurse had been allowed to go on an excursion, leaving no one to watch the patient except another patient who was hardly able to be out of bed. After the accident the man was picked up from the foot of the stairs and lived but a few minutes. The fact that no bones were broken caused the doctor to sign the death certificate as he did.

Mrs. Birchett has many staunch friends who will see her through the trouble. They claim that the fact that if the patient died from neglect or was killed by accident, no report of it was made to the coroner, and the city physician signed the death certificate ascribing death to natural causes, will be ample protection to her.

PURSUED BY ROBBERS.

Williamsburg, July 8.—The general merchandise store of Green Skinner was robbed at Woodbine last night, and bloodhounds are pursuing the robbers.

Police Court resumes the day.

A Large Number of Misdemeanor Cases Heard By Judge Sanders This Morning.

FELONY CASES IN AFTERNOON

The case against Fannie Leech, alias Wilson, and Gus Burgois, for the alleged theft of $235 from John Tally, of Mayfield, will be tried this afternoon in Judge Sanders' court. The case was docketed for today but as all the morning was consumed by other cases and the judge did not want to continue the case over again, he set it for this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The case against Lancaster Greenwell and Lewis Buff, the two boys who broke into a box car and stole a box of cuff buttons Sunday, will also be tried this afternoon.

The breach of ordinance case against Newton Cartee, W. B. Maheny and R. E. Torian, for leaving chicken coops on the market place, was left open. This same offense was charged against several hucksters several years ago but the case was dismissed. It will be a test case in this instance.

Charles Foster, colored, was recognized to appear before Judge Sanders tomorrow for trial on the charge of breach of the peace. He got into a fight with Henry Kendall Sunday night and Kendall has not yet been apprehended.

Annie McCormack, white, was fined $30 and costs for using insulting and profane language on the streets. Judgment was suspended and she was given six hours to leave town.

Sallie Craig and Ida Bloodsworth, two women of Mill street, Mechanicsburg, got into a fight and this morning the former was fined $50 and costs and recognized under the sum of $300 for her good behavior towards the latter who was recognized for the same sum for her good behavior towards the Craig woman. Pistols, knives and everything the women could lay hands on were used in the affair, it is said.

The breach of the peace case against John Crawford and Shelby Clark, the former white and the latter colored, for engaging in a fight, was left open. John Rogers, colored, was recognized to appear before the court Thursday to answer to the charge of a breach of the peace.

Henry Johnson, colored, was fined $1 and costs for a breach of the peace.

Charles Hackney, colored, who was struck by Charles Johnson in a fight, was fined $25 and costs and the charge of mayhem was dismissed.

The breach of the peace case against James Melgan, the well known engineer, for alleged striking of his mother, was dismissed as the evidence showed the man's mother was slightly demented and that this was about what brought about the charge.

WRECK ABANDONED.

THE CAMPING OUTFIT TO BE REMOVED TODAY.

The City of Pittsburg wreck will today be finally abandoned, and the camping paraphernalia used by the men who have been at work on it will be brought up tonight on the Dick Fowler and probably taken up Tennessee river.

The wreckers have been at work getting out old iron, machinery and such of the cargo as could be sold for the past two months or more, and several thousand dollars worth of material was taken out and sold.

Regular Meeting of the City Council
Held Last Night.

City Printer Resigns—Cow Catchers to Be Employed by the City to Enforce Stock Law.

HOSE QUESTION NOT DISCUSSED

The common council met in regular session last night with all members present except Councilmen Jackson and Woolfolk.

The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and adopted.

A petition was received from Wharfmaster S. A. Fowler to buy new chains for the wharves and also steel posts for fastenings instead of wooden posts which are now used. The new arrangement that Mr. Fowler wants to make is to arrange the posts so that only the iron ring will protrude above the surface. It was suggested that the chains from the steamer Pittsburg be purchased. Wharfmaster Fowler was instructed to make the purchase under the supervision of Councilman Joe Fowler. The price will amount to somewhere near $150 or $200. Councilman Potter was the only one voting no.

A petition from Mr. W. E. Paxton relative to street improvements was referred to the street committee.

The matter of the mayor renting city property on South Ninth street was concurred in. He had already rented the property and the price accepted was ratified.

The mayor stated that not the best terms existed between City Physician Coyle and Mrs. Burgess, the city hospital keeper, and the matter was placed in the hands of a committee for investigation.

This is what prompted City Physician Coyle to resign a short time ago.

Councilman Fowler read a resolution to have two special officers appointed to drive cows up at night to enforce the night stock ordinance. The police have not the time to look after the cows. Councilman Fowler then moved that the resolution be adopted and the mayor instructed to employ the men. The men will be given horses and buggies to work in. The motion was adopted by a vote of 7 to 3.

Councilman Potter suggested that the mayor be authorized to put on more extra men to enforce the Sabbath law which he "holds higher and more important than the cow ordinance."

The mayor stated that there have been several complaints of the city electric lighting service and wanted the matter taken up and investigated and adjusted so that a better service be secured. The matter was referred.

The motion to have a profile of Jefferson street improvements made was adopted.

The mayor stated that the hose investigating committee was not ready to report and would like to have more time which was granted.

The matter of the payment of a debt of $300 to H. H. Evans was presented and a settlement ordered.

Dr. Caldwell also presented a bill for about $400 which was ordered paid. The debts are for property purchased to keep Caldwell street clear, the lots lying in the path of the street.

Councilman Fowler presented the finance report showing accounts to the amount of several thousand dollars.

The report of Wm. Kraus, the city treasurer, showing a collection of $67,774.33 for the month of June and disbursements to the amount of $23,365.58 with a balance of $44,408.75, was received, filed and concurred in.

The report of the collections for the month of June made by Auditor Kirkland was received, filed and concurred in. It showed a total collection of $54,244.19 with disbursements amounting to $44,813.11.

The resignation of Mr. James C. Utterback, the city printer, was presented and accepted.

City Prosecuting Attorney Gilbert

then declared the News-Democrat the official organ of the city and ordered that all the city printing be placed with that paper. In regard to this action President Reed asked City Solicitor Worten if Mr. Gilbert had the authority to do the appointing, to which the latter replied that he didn't know, but it was his idea that he had. The president informed the solicitor he did not want his idea regarding the matter, but wanted to know the law. The solicitor replied that by recent legislation he or Mr. Gilbert one had the power so he would just attach his signature also to the city attorney's recommendation.

Councilman Potter then made a long, windy speech, saying much but arriving at little in the way of convincing results. The motion to ratify the appointment was lost by a vote of 5 to 5, those voting in favor of the News-Democrat being Hannon, Johnson, Niehaus, Taylor and Potter.

An ordinance providing for the sale of a franchise for the establishment and operation of a steam heating plant was presented. The ordinance was once before read but the date for the sale, July 6, having passed the ordinance had to be reread and the date reset. The sale could not be held as July 6 fell on Sunday. The promoters wanted the date set for the sale fixed for July 16, but the mayor said that he would have to call a special meeting of both the council and the board of aldermen and as there has been so much talk relative to the pay for called meetings he would refuse to call the meetings. The promoters then wanted the 28th set but this would not permit of the regular ten days advertisement of the sale that is required by law. The ordinance was given its first reading.

A report of the joint telephone committee was read. An agreement to permit the Illinois Central to pass through the pest house property, the company agreeing to pay $500 for the property, was received and filed. An ordinance to sell to the Illinois Central a strip of land on the pest house property was given its first reading.

Councilman Hummel presented the monthly report of Fire Chief Woods which was received and filed.

Councilman Hummel stated that there would be held in Metropolis next week a fire department tournament and as the local departments had been invited wanted the permission to have a portion of the local departments with one hose reel, all of which will be substituted without expense to the city. The permission was granted.

The water company reported the extension of mains and the setting up of fire plugs on Tenth street completed and the report was filed and concurred in.

The special board of supervisors reported that it had decreased Mrs. G. U. Leisner's assessment $1,000. The Cumberland Telephone company assessment was reported decreased to $40,000, a decrease of $10,000.

Several other decreases in assessments were reported and action on the report was deferred until next meeting.

The report of the relief committee relative to a $10 claim against the city by R. G. Caldwell and Son, claiming they have paid too much license, was read, received, filed and concurred in. The report recommended that no refund be made as the city was not indebted to the said firm at all.

The report of the joint judiciary committee appointing Flournoy and Harrison to revise the city ordinances from 1895 to date for $350, was read.

Councilman Taylor read a minority report protesting against the election of Flournoy and Harrison to revise the city ordinance and mentioning Attorneys E. H. Puryear and James Ray for the position, the firm agreeing to do the work for $325. The minority report was lost and the appointment of Messrs. Flournoy and Harrison ratified.

An application from Henry P. Pitman for saloon license at Ninth and Court was presented and the license granted.

After eating, persons of a bilious habit will derive great benefit by taking one of these pills. If you have been DRINKING TOO MUCH, they will promptly relieve the nausea, SICK HEADACHE and nervousness which follows, restore the appetite and remove gloomy feelings. Elegantly sugar coated. Take No Substitute.

Several transfers of coffee house license were ordered made.

The transfer of ferrisage privileges from Robert to James Owen, made by both the council and board of aldermen was ratified.

By motion the school board was allowed its regular amount from the collections of city taxes.

President Reed presented an invitation to the council to go to the Metropolis street fair, to attend in a body on Paducah day. The invitation was accepted and all the councilmen who can, will attend the carnival.

By motion the council requested that all dogs that are killed be buried instead of being thrown into the Ohio river. This is done in order to keep out of trouble with the Metropolis authorities.

An invitation from the American Association of manufacturers which will meet in convention in Grand Rapids was read and accepted.

A committee will be appointed to attend on its own expense.

The cemetery report was filed and concurred in.

Mr. Henry Theobald wanted relief from paying poll tax and the matter was dropped as the council has not the authority to exempt any one from poll taxes.

Councilman Brooks stated that he had been over the city a great deal and failed to see that the sanitary officers had done anything towards bettering the sanitary condition and wanted the officers instructed to do better. They will be instructed to do better work in the future.

A grievance from Fannie Abraham for an assessment for a stock of goods she did not own and the matter was referred.

A prayer from Mrs. E. Merigold for overassessment and relief was read and referred.

Attorney Worten stated that he did not think the council could grant relief from assessment but would be prepared to state positively at the next meeting.

Several sanitary matters were presented and referred.

A prayer from Mr. Frank Petter claiming $1,000 over assessment was referred.

Mrs. F. Rigglesberger asked permission to place in drain pipes in front of her residence at her own expense which was granted.

A resolution was presented by Councilman Hummel to have the mayor authorized to have an election called to settle the town cow question.

Councilman Hummel moved that the sense of the resolution be carried out.

Councilman Potter saw no reason why the city should go to the expense of an election now and suggested that the council let the cows run loose awhile longer in order to "try it a while." The matter was referred to the board of aldermen.

The council then by motion adjourned.

CHURCH DEDICATION

Memorial Window was Dedicated to
Mrs. Eva Caldwell.

Dr. Delia Caldwell, of Paducah, One of the Donors.

A Carbondale, Ill., dispatch to yesterday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:

The new Christian church, which has just been completed in this city at a cost of $12,000, was formally dedicated Sunday with appropriate services. The building is one of the most substantial and ornate edifices of its character ever erected in Southern Illinois and is classed as one of the most modern of the denomination's in the country. The building is 93 by 59 feet, two stories and a basement. The auditorium is lighted by three large and beautiful art glass memorial windows. One is dedicated to Mrs. Sarah Schwartz, by her children, who have contributed largely to the building of the church. The second is dedicated to Mrs. Eva Stites Caldwell and was presented by President Beverly C. Caldwell of the Louisiana state normal school; F. M. Caldwell, city clerk of this city; Judge A. S. Caldwell, Mrs. H. G. Easterly and Dr. Delia C. Caldwell, of Paducah. The third is in memory of William H. Laney and presented by his son. All of the three are models of artistic beauty.

Prominent divines and others of the church were present including the venerable widow of I. N. Bakewell and a sister of Alexander Campbell, the founder of the church. Rev. H. G. Bennett is the present pastor. The address was delivered by Zachery A. Kennedy of Columbus, Ind., former consul general of the United States to the Ottoman empire, and was a masterful production.

REPULSIVE FEATURES.

Blackheads, pimples, greasy faces and muddy complexions, which are so common among women, especially girls at a certain age, destroying beauty, disfiguring and making repulsive features which would otherwise appear attractive and refined, indicate that the liver is out of order. An occasional dose of Herbine will cleanse the bowels, regulate the liver and establish a clear, healthy complexion. 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

FIRE AT STURGIS.

Sturgis, Ky., July 8.—A fire that started in the Paris restaurant on Main street and spread to Mrs. Ellis' millinery store nearly destroyed both buildings. Nearly all the stock was saved. Only the lack of wind prevented a destructive blaze, as the town is without fire protection.

HAS DISAPPEARED

Prof. Bullock's Last Words Were He Believed He'd "Cut His Throat."

A Brookport Sensation Over the Disappearance of a Teacher.

Metropolis, Ill., July 8.—Quite a sensation is now developed in Brookport over the mysterious disappearance of Prof. A. J. Bullock of near Brookport, a well known Massac county educator.

About the first of the week Prof. Bullock drove to this city and after making some purchases started on his journey home.

He drove out the Golconda road instead of the road to his home and drove up to the barn of John Joiner. Here he stopped his horse and went in Joiner's barn picked up a set of old harness and putting them in his buggy returned home.

When Mr. Joiner discovered the loss of his harness he began an investigation.

Prof. Bullock's horse was lame and by the horse's footprint Joiner tracked the theft to Bullock.

He went to Bullock's house and found the harness lying on the porch. Upon being asked why he had taken the harness Bullock replied that he did not know.

After Joiner left Bullock turned to his wife and said, "I believe I'll cut my throat" and walked out and has not been seen since that time.

That Prof. Bullock is mentally deranged seems reasonable for heretofore he has always been a man of the greatest honor and integrity. He had complained often of late that the top of his head had pained him exceedingly.

It is to be hoped that he will be located and that his malady will be found to be only temporary.

RAILROAD TALK.

There is some very strong talk in a private way of an attempt to get a railroad from here to Cairo to connect with the roads there. As to what reliability there is in the talk, we are not advised, but from what we can hear such is in the wind and we would not be surprised if such a scheme were to materialize.—Mayfield Messenger.

DEATH NEAR FULTON.

Are You Expectant?

makes childbirth easy and almost painless, by preparing the system for parturition, thus assisting Nature, and shortening labor. The painful ordeal of childbirth is robbed of its terrors, and the danger thereof greatly lessened, to both mother and child. The period of confinement is also greatly shortened, the mother rested, and the child fully developed, strong and healthy.

Morning sickness, or nausea arising from pregnancy is prevented by relieving the stomach from the pressure brought to bear on it by the expanding organ, and by which it is influenced through sympathy.

As pregnancy advances, the breasts enlarge, become swollen, hard and tight. Long before the child is born, they are preparing for the secretion of milk. It is important to successful child rearing that these glands receive early consideration. Mother's Friend softens the skin, relieves the pressure, and facilitates the secretion of Life Fluid. Undeveloped and occluded ducts, and breasts hard and swollen shortly after delivery, are a result of non-treatment and likely to culminate in Mammary Abscess from which the patient suffers excruciating pain and is left with these functional organs permanently impaired.

Mother's Friend is always applied externally and rubbed into the flesh over the region of pain. Softness, pliability and expansion are given to the muscles, tissues, fibres and sinews, allowing the elasticity necessary to bring comfort while with heavy burden, and cause easy issue of the child. Try it. Of all druggists $1.00. Our book "Motherhood" free.

A FREAKY FRONT

Manager John Lane of the Arcade has the most unique front in Paducah. He has just had it painted half red and half white, and it looks as if there is something else to do to it. It attracts a great deal of attention, however, and Manager Lane hears some excruciatingly funny remarks from passers-by during the day.

Yesterday in the course of a few moments he heard the following:

"I wonder when he is going to finish it."

"Humph! I guess his paint gave out before he had got half through."

"Nobody but John Lane would have thought of having a store front painted like that."

"He is going to have his 10 cent window painted one color, you see, and the 5 cent window painted the other. That enables you to tell what the price of everything is."

"What in creation would any man want with such a freaky-looking thing?"

"Wonder if he is really going to leave it that way?"

"He ought to rent this front out to some carnival company."

Scores of expressions of this kind were heard, but finally two ladies passed, and one said inquiringly: "I wonder if Mr. Lane is really crazy?" When Mr. Lane heard that he smiled and went in without seeking to hear anything else about the new front. He said it was getting too personal.

THE BOSS WORM MEDICINE.

H. P. Kumpa, druggist, Leighton, Ala., writes: "One of my customers had a child, which was sick, and threw up all food, could retain nothing on its stomach. He bought one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and it brought up 119 worms from the child. It's the boss worm medicine in the world." White's Cream Vermifuge is also the children's tonic. It improves their digestion and assimilation of food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to the health, vigor and elasticity of spirits natural to childhood. 25c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

THE DEMOCRACY'S THREE ISSUES.

(Globe Democrat.)

Ostensibly the Democracy will have three issues in the congressional canvass of 1902. Some of their leaders, that is to say, are urging the party to make a fight on trusts, imperialism and tariff reform. Ex-President Cleveland favored tariff reform in his great harmony speech at the Tilden club dinner, but nobody has been able to find that the recommendation has caused any enthusiasm except among the Democratic enemies of the ex-President, who cast derision upon him for his tariff record, as they do for everything else which he has said or done. Cleveland skipped imperialism, but some of the other Democratic magnates pretend they want that for an issue. Trustism, of course, will come in for assault in the canvass.

On all these issues the Democracy can be easily beaten. On tariff reform there is no approach to harmony among the Democrats. It is certain that the country is not seeking any tariff reform, or wants any tinkering with the tariff in any direction. On the trust question the Republicans have a far better record than the Democrats, for the Republicans passed the only anti-trust bill ever enacted by congress, and the Republicans enforced that act and are enforcing it now. The Republicans will be exceedingly glad to see the Democrats bring the question of imperialism forward. That is an issue on which there are hundreds of thousands of new votes for the Republican party in the country at large.

There is no issue in sight on which the Democrats have the faintest chance to win. The most disastrous of all these three issues for the Democrats would be that of imperialism. The people of the United States do not believe that there is any imperialism in the policy which the Roosevelt administration and the Republican party in congress are pursuing in the Philippines. That policy is unquestionably favored by at least two out of three of the 15,000,000 voters of this country. It is a policy which is to be pursued, and which is to result in greater good for the country than even that which is foreshadowed at the present time. The United States has made immeasurable advances, socially, industrially and politically, in the five years which have passed since the Republicans came into power. On its record since March 4, 1897, the Republican party can win a grand victory in 1902.

An ad in the daily newspaper presents its proposition to prospective customers when they are in the mood to be interested and enlightened.

ONLY ONE ISSUE.

The leading Democrats of the country admit that there are only three things out of which the party can well make an issue for the next campaign. One of these is the tariff, one imperialism and the other the trusts. The fallacy of imperialism was decided at the last election by the overwhelming re-election of President McKinley, leaving little hope of converting this well-threshed question into anything like an issue. The tariff is something in which the people of the United States have always supported Republican principles, leaving nothing, virtually, except the trusts, for the Democrats to fall back on.

The way President Roosevelt is going after these leaves the Democrats little consolation along this line. President Roosevelt has always had pronounced views about the trusts, as about everything else, and he is, making and has always made war just as vigorously against them as the Democrats could have done. If he accomplishes anything, it will completely deprive the Democrats of the trust issue, and if he doesn't, it will prove conclusively that the Democrats couldn't either, and they could have no possible excuse for wanting to try. This vigorous action of President Roosevelt is effectually cutting from under the Democrats the only real issue upon which they have the slightest hope of uniting, that of the trusts. It will leave them nothing on which to make the next fight, unless it is the tariff, which will be opposed by thousands of them, because it was recently suggested by Former President Grover Cleveland.

There is one thing certain in forecasting the next national campaign, and that is that the Republicans will win by one of the largest votes ever polled.

MORE ABOUT THE HOSE.

It wouldn't make any difference whether the fire hose bought by the Business Men's Council proved to be valuable or worthless. It wouldn't alter the fact that the cotton hose that the last administration paid 90 cents a foot for, and which, according to the fire chief, can not now stand a pressure of 100 pounds, are worthless, and that the administration, by its careless, unbusiness-like methods left the city with no protection in the way of an indemnity bond. The hose recently bought and over which there is now a squabble, are guaranteed not to stand a pressure of so many pounds "on delivery," but for five years after delivery, insuring their service for a period of five years. This bond has been carefully examined, and is good. It is obvious to any intelligent person that if the city can afford to pay 90 cents a foot for cotton hose that doesn't last three years, it can afford to pay $1.05 for rubber hose that is guaranteed to last

MOST BEYOND BELIEF

IF IT WERE NOT FOR PADUCAH INDORSEMENT PEOPLE MIGHT BE SKEPTICAL.

No wonder people doubt! So many statements are made, Statements indorsed by strangers, From people living in distant towns. Don't know them and can't see them.

Such indorsement has a hazy aspect. Paducah people want local proof. That's what we have here. It's not beyond belief because it can be proven.

Read a local citizen's testimony. Mr. H. L. Blackford, of 615 Washington street, carpenter by trade, says: "It struck me when reading a notice about Doan's Kidney Pills that if they performed half what they promised they might cure my kidney complaint which annoyed me in the shape of backache. I went to DuBois and Co's drug store, got a box and commenced the treatment. If it had not benefited me I never would have bought a second, and if the second had not brought undoubted results I could not be induced to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to friends and acquaintances personally, much less publicly."

For sale by all dealers, 40 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

But the allegations about the rubber hose purchased by the Republican council are incorrect. Fire Chief Wood is quoted as having said that the hose were "no account" eight months after they were purchased. We have not the records before us, but a member of the Republican, or Business Men's Council, states that in 1896 the Business Men's Council purchased 1,500 feet of Maltese Cross rubber hose, and that Chief Wood was not then in office, and was not in office for eighteen months thereafter, and consequently knows nothing about how long the hose were good, and certainly could not know that they didn't last eight months. Then the hose were used for about a year after Mr. Wood was again elected fire chief, and some of them are in use to this day at the south side station.

A sight for the gods was a man down town yesterday with a dump cart going about where the new gravel had been placed on the streets loading the boulders into it. These boulders are huge lumps that the city has paid for along with the rest of whatever constitutes "gravel" in Paducah. After the "gravel" has been dumped onto the street, the lumps that are too large for the average wagon to get over in safety are raked to one side, and the man mentioned above comes along and carts them off. Thus the city pays men to put the gravel on, and then turns around and pays them to haul it off. Why aren't these boulders taken out before the gravel is measured up for the city? It would not only save the city the expense of paying for something worthless, but would save her the trouble of having it picked out and set aside, and then hauled away.

One thing that is bothering local politicians, and politicians in this part of the state, is who is going to get left in the scramble for nominations for state offices. There are three candidates for secretary of state and one for governor from this end of the state, and when a slate is made up, this many men from the same section are never given places on it; hence some one must get left. It seems that the candidate for governor, or else the ones for secretary of state, will have

HOW TELEPHONES HURT THE ROADS

Many Journeys Saved by Using the Long-Distance Wire.

It is an odd fact, but true, that some steam railroads have complained of the harm done to their best class of passenger traffic by the long distance telephone, while hotels in Western cities have also attributed a reduction of patronage to the same cause. Travel between this city and St. Louis, for example, is said to have been appreciably cut down by the telephone. Such a result would seem difficult to trace tangibly, although one meets people daily who, to avoid weary trips, have governed themselves on the injunction: "Don't travel; telephone." But the telegraph and the mail have also been deterrents, and if there is any validity to the alleged reason the high-speed electric travel of the future may restore the former conditions.

Priest Writes a Play.

A Roman Catholic priest of New York has written a drama called "A Baltimore Marriage," having to do with the union of Jerome Bonaparte and Elizabeth Patterson—a union afterward dissolved by the Corsican, who did not hesitate to act when the pope, himself, refused. It was said during last week that Henrietta Crossman had accepted the play, and would produce it; and this caused some comment in the press, for the reason that the pope is a character in the drama. But Miss Crossman sends a statement that she will not produce the play—at least, not in the near future; in any event, the character of the pope will be eliminated.

AT OYSTER BAY

President Roosevelt Expects to Spend a Quiet Vacation.

Attention Will Be Given to Only the Most Urgent Public Business.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 8.—In discussing the President's stay at Oyster Bay Secretary Cortelyou said that there seemed to be considerable misapprehension as to some of the features of it. He stated that there would be no elaborate office established, and that the only clerical force maintained would consist of two stenographers. Arrangements have about been concluded for its use of two rooms in the bank building for office purposes, and it will be there that the President will transact most of his business when he comes to town.

Both the President and his secretary have planned to make their brief holiday as restful as possible, and to that end will transact in Oyster Bay only the most immediate public business. Everything else was transmitted to Washington for attention there, either by the regular White House force, or, in cases where other action is required by the various departments. This is in accordance with the practice which has been followed successfully during the previous summers. The President will not receive delegates, and hopes to have all matters intended for him not of the most pressing importance submitted by correspondence.

Mr. Cortelyou will spend most of the summer at Oyster Bay, or within easy reach of that place. Sometime during the season he hopes to put aside work entirely for a short vacation, leaving Assistant Secretary Loeb in charge during his absence.

The meager hotel accommodations here will go far toward giving the President that rest and freedom from unnecessary official cares which he has made it plain to everyone he desires. What scant accommodations there are have already been preempted and persons arriving here from this time on during the President's stay will probably find themselves without a place to sleep.

The people of Oyster Bay seem to resent the presence of the secret service men, as they believe that the President is perfectly safe from bodily harm. The strictest surveillance is maintained, despite these protestations.

GOLD MINING SWINDLE

ALLEGED THAT A MILLION DOLLARS HAVE BEEN ENTICED FROM POCKETS OF THE CREDULOUS.

Chicago, July 8.—Upon allegations of dishonest and corrupt methods of management, by which the directors of the Model Gold Mining company, an Arizona corporation, it is charged, have made fortunes at the expense of the stockholders, Joseph H. Marshall has secured from Judge Tutbill the appointment of a receiver, R. H. Thatcher, who is now in charge of the company's affairs. The amount involved in the case may burn up to $1,000,000, and hundreds of residents of Chicago and vicinity, including policemen and persons of Catholic connections, are said to have been victimized. Frank Jager is alleged to have been the manipulator of the affairs of the corporation.

It is a medicine of positive merit, and fully accomplishes all that is claimed for it." Malaria cannot find lodgment in the system while the liver is in perfect order, for one of its functions is to prevent the absorption of fever producing poisons. Herbine is a most efficient liver regulator. 50c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.

BRIGHT FOR CONSOLIDATION

PRESBYTERIAN UNIVERSITIES OF CLARKSVILLE, TENN., AND COLUMBIA, S. C., MAY BE MERGED.

Athens, Ga., July 8.—Rev. J. W. Walden of this city, chairman of the committee to establish a Presbyterian university of Georgia, says that the prospects for consolidating the theological seminary at Columbia, S. C., and the Southwestern Presbyterian University at Clarksville, Tenn., are bright. Dr. Walden says if Atlanta will give $250,000, there is every indication that she will secure the new university. The combined endowments of the two colleges amount to $600,000. If Atlanta raises the quarter of a million dollars for buildings and grounds the synods of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi will raise an equal amount, making the total value of the assets of the new university over $1,000,000.

"A Study In Scarlet"

BY CONAN DOYLE

"Hurry on, hurry on," he gasped from time to time. "We are through the line of sentinels. Everything depends on speed. Hurry on."

Once on the high road, they made rapid progress. Only once did they meet any one, and then they managed to slip into a field and so avoid recognition. Before reaching the town the hunter branched away into a rugged and narrow footpath which led into the mountains. Two dark, jagged peaks loomed above them through the darkness, and the defile which led between them was the Eagle canyon, in which the horses were awaiting them. With unerring instinct Jefferson Hope picked his way among the great boulders and along the bed of a dried up water course until he came to the retired corner, screened with rocks, where the faithful animals had been picketed. The girl was placed upon the mule, and old Ferrier upon one of the horses, with his money bag, while Jefferson Hope led the other along the precipitous and dangerous paths.

It was a bewildering route for any one who was not accustomed to face nature in her wildest moods. On the one side a great crag towered up 1,000 feet or more, black, stern and menacing, with long basaltic columns upon its rugged surface like the ribs of some petrified monster. On the other hand a wild chaos of boulders and debris made all advance impossible. Between the two and the irregular track, so narrow in places that they had to travel in Indian file and so rough that only practiced riders could have traversed it at all. Yet in spite of all dangers and difficulties the hearts of the fugitives were light within them, for every step increased the distance between them and the terrible despotism from which they were flying.

They soon had a proof, however, that they were still within the jurisdiction of the saints. They had reached the very wildest and most desolate portion of the pass when the girl gave a startled cry and pointed upward. On a rock which overlooked the track, showing out dark and plain against the sky, there stood a solitary sentinel. He saw them as soon as they perceived him, and his military challenge of "Who goes there?" rang through the silent ravine.

"Travelers for Nevada," said Jefferson Hope, with his hand upon the rifle which hung by his saddle.

They could see the lonely watcher fingering his gun and peering down at them as if dissatisfied at their reply.

"By whose permission?" he asked. "The holy four," answered Ferrier. His Mormon experiences had taught him that that was the highest authority to which he could refer.

"Nine from seven," cried the sentinel.

"Seven from five," returned Jefferson Hope promptly, remembering the countersign which he had heard in the garden.

"Pass, and the Lord go with you," said the voice from above. Beyond this post the path broadened out, and the horses were able to break into a trot. Looking back, they could see the solitary watcher leaning upon his gun and knew that they had passed the outlying post of the chosen people, and that freedom lay before them.

CHAPTER V.

All night their course lay through intricate defiles and over irregular and rock strewn paths. More than once they lost their way, but Hope's intimate knowledge of the mountains enabled them to regain the track once more. When morning broke, a scene of marvelous though savage beauty lay before them. In every direction the great snow capped peaks hemmed them in, peeping over each other's shoulders to the far horizon. So steep were the rocky banks on either side of them that the larch and the pine seemed to be suspended over their heads and to need only a gust of wind to come hurling down upon them. Nor was the fear entirely an illusion, for the barren valley was thickly strewn with trees and boulders which had fallen in a similar manner. Even as they passed a great rock came thundering down, with a hoarse rattle which woke the echoes in the silent gorges and startled the weary horses into a gallop.

As the sun rose slowly above the eastern horizon the caps of the great mountains lit up one after the other like lamps at a festival until they were all ruddy and glowing. The magnificent spectacle cheered the hearts of the three fugitives and gave them fresh energy. At a wild torrent which swept out of a ravine they called a halt and watered their horses, while they partook of a hasty breakfast. Lucy and her father would have rested longer, but Jefferson Hope was inexorable. "They will be upon our track by this time," he said. "Everything depends upon our speed. Once safe in Carson, we may rest for the remainder of our lives."

During the whole of that day they struggled on through the defiles, and by evening they calculated that they were more than 30 miles from their enemies. At nighttime they chose the base of a beetling crag where the rocks offered some protection from the chill wind, and there, huddled together for warmth, they enjoyed a few hours' sleep. Before daybreak, however, they were up and on their way once more. They had seen no signs of any pursuers, and Jefferson Hope began to think they were fairly out of the reach of the terrible organization whose enmity they had incurred. He little knew how far that iron grasp could reach, or how soon it was to close upon them and crush them.

About the middle of the second day of their flight their scanty store of provisions began to run out. This gave the hunter little uneasiness, however, for there was game to be had among the mountains, and he had frequently before had to depend upon his rifle for the needs of life. Choosing a sheltered nook, he piled together a few dry branches and made a blazing fire at which his companions might warm themselves, for they were now nearly 5,000 feet above the sea level and the air was bitter and keen. Having tethered the horses and bade Lucy adieu, he threw his gun over his shoulder and set out in search of whatever chance might throw in his way. Looking back, he saw the old man and the young girl crouching over the blazing fire, while the three animals stood motionless in the background. Then the intervening rocks hid them from his view.

He walked for a couple of miles through one ravine after another without success, though from the marks upon the bark of the trees and other indications he judged that there were numerous bears in the vicinity. At last after two or three hours' fruitless search, he was thinking of turning back in despair when, casting his eyes upward, he saw a sight which sent a thrill of pleasure through his heart. On the edge of a jutting pinnacle 300 or 400 feet above him there stood a creature somewhat resembling a sheep in appearance, but armed with a pair of gigantic horns. The bighorn—for so it is called—was acting probably as a guardian over a flock which were invisible to the hunter, but fortunately it was heading in the opposite direction and had not perceived him. Lying on his back, he rested his rifle upon a rock and took a long and steady aim before drawing the trigger. The animal sprang into the air, tottered for a moment upon the edge of the precipice and then came crashing down into the valley beneath.

The creature was too unwieldy to lift, so the hunter contented himself with cutting away one haunch and part of the flank. With this trophy over his shoulder he hastened to retrace his steps, for the evening was already drawing in. He had hardly started, however before he realized the difficulty which faced him. In his eagerness he had wandered far past the ravines which were known to him, and it was no easy matter to pick out the path which he had taken. The valley in which he found himself divided and subdivided into many gorges which were so like each other that it was impossible to distinguish one from the other. He followed one for a mile or more until he came to a mountain torrent which he was sure that he had never seen before. Convinced that he had taken the wrong turn, he tried another, but with the same result. Night was coming on rapidly, and it was almost dark before he at last found himself in a defile which was familiar to him. Even then it was no easy matter to keep to the right track, for the moon had not yet risen, and the high cliffs on either side made the obscurity more profound. Weighed down with his burden and weary from his exertions, he stumbled along, keeping up his heart with the reflection that every step brought him nearer to Lucy, and that he carried with him enough to insure them food for the remainder of their journey.

He had now come to the mouth of the very defile in which he had left them. Even in the darkness he could recognize the outlines of the cliffs which bounded it. They must, he reflected, be awaiting him anxiously, for he had been absent nearly five hours. In the gladness of his heart he put his hands to his mouth and made the glen re-echo to a loud halloo as a signal that he was coming. He paused and listened for an answer. None came save his own cry, which clattered up the dreary, silent ravines and was borne back to his ears in countless repetitions. Again he shouted, even louder than before, and again no whisper came back from the friends whom he had left such a short time ago.

A vague, nameless dread came over him, and he hurried onward frantically, dropping the precious food in his agitation.

When he turned the corner, he came full in sight of the spot where the fire had been lit. There was still a glowing pile of wood ashes there, but it had evidently not been tended since his departure. The same dead silence still reigned all around. With his fears all changed to convictions, he hurried on. There was no living creature near the remains of the fire—animals, man, maiden, all were gone. It was only too clear that some sudden and terrible disaster had occurred during his absence—a disaster which embraced them all and yet had left no traces behind it.

Bewildered and stunned by this blow, Jefferson Hope felt his head spin round and had to lean upon his rifle to save himself from falling. He was essentially a man of action, however, and speedily recovered his temporary impotence. Seizing a half consumed piece of wood from the smoldering fire, he blew it into a flame and proceeded with its help to examine the little camp. The ground was all stamped down by the feet of horses, showing that a large party of mounted men had overtaken the fugitives, and the direction of their tracks proved that they had afterward turned back to Salt Lake City. Had they carried back both of his companions with them? Jefferson Hope had almost persuaded himself that they must have done so when his eye fell upon an object which made every nerve of his body tingle within him. A little way on one side of the camp was a low lying heap of reddish soil which had assuredly not been there before. There was no mistaking it for anything but a newly dug grave. As the young hunter approached it he perceived that a stick had been planted on it, with a sheet of paper stuck in the cleft fork of it. The inscription upon the paper was brief, but to the point:

JOHN FERRIER,

FORMERLY OF SALT LAKE CITY,

Died Aug. 4, 1890.

The sturdy old man, whom he had left so short a time before, was gone then, and this was all his epitaph. Jefferson Hope looked wildly around to see if there was a second grave, but there was no sign of one. Lucy had been carried by their terrible pursuers to fulfill her original destiny by becoming one of the harem of the elder's son. As the young fellow realized the certainty of her fate and his own powerlessness to prevent it he wished that he, too, was lying with the old farmer in his last silent resting place.

Again, however, his active spirit shook off the lethargy which springs from despair. If there was nothing else left to him, he could at least devote his life to revenge. With indomitable patience and perseverance Jefferson Hope possessed also a power of sustained vindictiveness, which he may have learned from the Indians among whom he had lived. As he stood by the desolate fire he felt that the only one thing which could assuage his grief would be thorough and complete retribution brought by his own hand upon his enemies. His strong will and untiring energy should, he determined, be devoted to that one end. With a grim, white face he retraced his steps to where he had dropped the food, and having stirred up the smoldering fire he cooked enough to last him for a few days. This he made up into a bundle, and tired as he was he set himself to walk back through the mountains upon the track of the avenging angels.

For five days he toiled, footsore and weary, through the defiles which he had already traversed on horseback. At night he flung himself down among the rocks and snatched a few hours of sleep, but before daybreak he was always well on his way.

On the sixth day he reached Eagle canyon, from which they had commenced their ill fated flight. Thence he could look down upon the home of the saints. Worn and exhausted, he leaned upon his rifle and shook his gaunt hand fiercely at the silent, widespread city beneath him. As he looked at it he observed that there were flags in some of the principal streets and other signs of festivity. He was still speculating as to what this might mean when he heard the clatter of horse's hoofs and saw a mounted man riding toward him. As he approached he recognized him as a Mormon named Cowper, to whom he had rendered services at different times. He therefore accosted him when he got up to him, with the object of finding out what Lucy Ferrier's fate had been.

"I am Jefferson Hope," he said. "I am your friend."

The Mormon looked at him with undisguised astonishment. Indeed it was difficult to recognize in this tattered, unkempt wanderer with ghastly white face and fierce wild eyes the spruce young hunter of former days. Having, however, at last satisfied himself as to his identity, the man's surprise changed to consternation.

"You are mad to come here," he cried. "It is as much as my own life is worth to be seen talking with you. There is a warrant against you from the holy four for assisting the Ferriers away."

"I don't fear them or their warrant," Hope said earnestly. "You must know something of this matter, Cowper. I conjure you by everything you hold dear to answer a few questions. We have always been friends. For my sake, don't refuse to answer me."

"What is it?" the Mormon asked easily. "Be quick. The very rocks have ears and the trees eyes."

"What has become of Lucy Ferrier?" "She was married yesterday to young Drebbler. Hold up, man; hold up! You have no life left in you."

"Don't mind me," said Hope faintly. He was white to the very lips and had sunk down on the stone against which he had been leaning. "Married, you say?"

"Married yesterday. That's what those flags are for on the Endowment house. There were some words between young Drebbler and young Stangerson as to which was to have her. They'd both been in the party that followed them, and Stangerson had shot her father, which seemed to give him the best claim, but when they argued it out in council Drebbler's party was the stronger, so the prophet gave her over to him. No one won't have her very long, for I saw death in her face yesterday. She is more like a ghost than a woman. Are you off, then?"

"Yes, I'm off," said Jefferson Hope, who had risen from his seat. His face might have been chiseled out of marble, so hard and so set was its expression, while his eyes glowed with a baleful light.

"Where are you going?" "Never mind," he answered, and slinging his weapon over his shoulder strode off down the gorge and so away into the heart of the mountains to the haunts of the wild beasts. Among them all there was none so fierce and dangerous as himself.

The prediction of the Mormon was only too well fulfilled. Whether it was the terrible death of her father or the effects of the hateful marriage to which she had been forced, poor Lucy never held up her head again, but pined away and died within a month. Her sorrowful husband, who had married her principally for the sake of John Ferrier's property, did not affect any great grief at his bereavement, but his other wives mourned over her and sat up with her the night before the burial, as is the Mormon custom. They were grouped around the bier in the early hours of the morning, when, to their inexpressible fear and astonishment, the door was flung open, and a savage looking, weather beaten man in tattered garments strode into the room.

Without a glance or a word to the cowering women, he walked up to the white, silent figure which had once contained the pure soul of Lucy Ferrier. Stooping over her, he pressed his lips reverently to her cold forehead, and then snatching up her hand he took the wedding ring from her finger. "She shall not be buried in that," he cried, with a fierce snarl, and before an alarm could be raised sprang down the stairs and was gone. So strange and so brief was the episode that the watchers might have found it hard to believe it themselves or persuade other people of it had it not been for the undeniable fact that the circle of gold which marked her as having been a bride had disappeared.

For some months Jefferson Hope lingered among the mountains, leading a strange, wild life and nursing in his heart the fierce desire for vengeance which possessed him. Tales were told in the city of the weird figure which was seen prowling about the suburbs, and which haunted the lonely mountain gorges. Once a bullet whistled through Stangerson's window and flattened itself upon the wall within a foot of him. On another occasion as Drebbler passed under a cliff a great boulder crashed down on him, and he only escaped a terrible death by throwing himself upon his face. The two young Mormons were not long in discovering the reason of these attempts upon their lives and led repeated expeditions into the mountains in the hope of capturing or killing their enemy, but always without success. Then they adopted the precaution of never going out alone or after nightfall and of having their houses guarded. After a time they were able to relax these measures, for nothing was either heard or seen of their opponent, and they hoped that time had cooled his vindictiveness.

Far from doing so, it had, if anything, augmented it. The hunter's mind was of a hard, unyielding nature, and the predominant idea of revenge had taken such complete possession of it that there was no room for any other emotion. He was, however, above all things, practical. He soon realized that even his iron constitution could not stand the incessant strain which he was putting upon it. Exposure and want of wholesome food were wearing him out. If he died like a dog among the mountains, what was to become of his revenge then? And yet such a death was sure to overtake him if he persisted. He felt that that was to play his enemy's game, so he reluctantly returned to the old Nevada mines, there to recruit his health and to amass money enough to allow him to pursue his object without privation.

His intention had been to be absent a year at the most, but a combination of unforeseen circumstances prevented his leaving the mines for nearly five. At the end of that time, however, his memory of his wrongs and his cravings for revenge were quite as keen as on that memorable night when he had Neale stock, and together with other members of the company left for a trip through Yosemite valley. In about three weeks she will be with the company to Manila, Philippine Islands, to begin a three months' engagement at the Alphonso theater. Miss Wayne is an unusually attractive, versatile and talented young lady and her many friends will wish her success.

Those who attended "Too Much Smith" at La Belle park theater last night seemed to enjoy the performance very much. The play proved very humorous, both in lines and action, and was favored with much applause. All the characters were exceedingly well taken, and the members of the company have never appeared to better advantage. The specialties were much better than the average, and Miss Phelps, in her character songs, was encored and recalled. The same bill is presented again tonight.

"The people of Paducah are queer people when it comes to going to shows," quoth a well informed gentleman this morning. "Here we had two home attractions going on, and a river show with a lot of hackneyed rubbish comes along and fills up the boat, while the home attractions play to practically nothing. The callopie and brass band seem to be good advertisers. Otherwise none would have known the aggregation was in town."

Mr. H. W. English, a brother to Manager J. E. English of The Kentucky, and Mr. R. S. England, of the Standard wholesale grocery, are guests of Manager English. The first named is editor of the "Alabama Elk," a southern Elks publication and was formerly in the Southern Amusement company. He is one of the most popular men in Birmingham.

Manager J. E. English is not discouraged over his experience in summer stock. He will join the Hopkins circuit at once for next season, and open his summer season on May 12 in high class vaudeville. Among the stars who will be seen here are Mrs. Jessie Bartlett Davis and Ezra Kendall, for a week.

Miss Edith Terry, of Louisville, is just home after a successful season in New York, and is delighted with her reception. She has been playing to the best audiences in the largest theater.

Miss Justina Wayne, ingenue of the English stock during most of the season, reached San Francisco at the close of the regular season of the aters, and has made a hit. She is a daughter of a former Paducah belle, who was then Miss Maggie McOlelland.

Miss Regina Merritt, whose songs were heard at The Kentucky last Friday, has signed with the "Pickings from Puck" company and leaves July 21 for Chicago to begin rehearsals. The company opens August 4 at the Great Northern theater, and is owned by John W. Gates, Ollie Mack and Manager James E. English.

Miss Flora Mae Clark leaves the latter part of this month for New York to arrange for an engagement for the coming season. Her success as "Lygia" is so well known that she will doubtless have little difficulty in getting a good engagement.

The Murray and Mack company will open in "A Night on Broadway" at the Metropolitan theater, New York, on September 1. The "Shooting the Chutes" company will open in Norfolk, Va., on September 1.

The season of "Last Days of Pompeii" in Louisville was not much more profitable than the week here. The conclusion of the promoters there is that the people of Louisville do not like a show of that description.

Mr. James Hague, who was seen here during the past season as Timothy Finnegan in "Finnegan's Ball," was one of the headliners in the Swallow and Markle floating palace here last night.

Mr. Warren Thornberry has accepted the position of property man with the Finnegan Ball company which opens at Minneapolis August 24.

THE HOSE DEAL.

THE FIRE COMMITTEE WILL PROBABLY NOT MEET AGAIN FOR TEN DAYS.

Chairman Hummel of the fire committee of the general council, stated this morning that the hose deal investigation would probably remain in statu quo for a week or ten days longer. The committee is investigating some outside matters at present, and has learned among other things that the guarantee specified in the bid made Cairo by the National India Rubber company was a year shorter than the contract with Paducah stipulates. This would cut down the price about one-fifth.

It seems to be practically settled that the city will pay for the hose as there is no way to escape it, even if the committee were disposed to do so.

NON SUPPORT.

NEELEY MAMON ASKS FOR A DIVORCE FROM JERRY MAMON.

Neeley Mamon this morning filed a suit in circuit court against her husband, Jerry Mamon for an absolute divorce, the custody of their two year old son and the restoration of her maiden name, Neeley Titworth. She gives abandonment and non-support her grounds for the action.

COUNTY ATTORNEYS MEET.

MR. EUGENE GRAVES LEFT TO REPRESENT M'CRACKEN.

County Attorney Eugene Graves left the city at noon today for Estil Springs to attend the meeting of county attorneys of the state which begins tomorrow and lasts two or three days. A pleasant time is anticipated and he will not return until Saturday.
